Issue 1, Volume 1

January 2024

YEAR IN REVIEW

The year started with support for RIPCA's newly installed Executive Board and participating in RIDOT's SHSP. TLAF hosted a Super Bowl Press Event and continued its commitment to youth as a participant and sponsor of Bowl Like MADD and the Mt. Hope High School Pre Prom Dinner.

Much time was spent at the State House. Many steps were logged between the House and Senate Chambers to testify for enhancement to existing laws and the introduction of new bills relating to impaired driving and sentencing.

In April, TLAF was proud to announce the selection of our Founder as the Rhode Island Remarkable Woman of 2023. After a whirlwind trip to Los Angeles, courtesy of NexStar Media, the pace continued with engagements across our state.

TLAF recognized West Warwick for their unwavering dedication and support not only to the Andreozzi family, but to all victims of impaired driving.

pay it forward

April saw the kickoff to our Pay It Forward campaign, “with love from Tori.” 100 care bags, decorated by elementary school-aged children and assembled by middle school students, were distributed in conjunction with Mae’s Organization for the Homeless.

Thousands of child-friendly band aids were collected with huge contributions from our friends at the Don Rodrigues Karate School and through the efforts of an inspiring young student from South County. The band aids were delivered to the Tomorrow Fund clinic “with love from Tori.”

Medical supplies and equipment were distributed to field hospitals in Ukraine and hurricane ravaged areas of Haiti.

The Impossible Dream, an accessible playground, received the donation of a wheelchair glider for all to enjoy.

*In Honor of Her Spirit...
“Pay It Forward”*

With Love From Tori

Cathy Andreozzi presented as keynote speaker for the MADD Massachusetts Law Enforcement Recognition Awards.

She was also honored as a speaker for the R.I.S.E. Women’s Leadership Conference as well as for the Senate Press Conference on Impaired Driving.

TIAF participated in many Mental Health fairs throughout the state.

choices

By strengthening partnerships in underserved populations through martial arts scholarships, grants for wellness programs for those in recovery, and funding of programs such as Gloves Up Guns Down, people are given choices. Long a supporter of outreach programs through the YMCA and Rhode Islanders Supporting Education we have been able to see firsthand the positive outcomes.

TIAF was a sponsor, presenter and a participant in Youth Summit. Over the course of three days on a college campus, young people honed their leadership skills and knowledge of and commitment to traffic safety.

moments

Arc of Rhode Island received a grant from TIAF enabling them to provide backpacks to over 300 disabled youth and our founder completed Mentor training.

courage

Community Conversations were held in Chariho, Narragansett, East Greenwich, Burrillville, Warwick and Bristol. Victims, highway safety professionals, legislators, prevention specialists, prosecutors, and law enforcement presented ways to make the roadways safer for all.

legacy

And, as in years past, our favorite way to end the year is in participation of the YMCA Toy Drive. We do so in honor of the Foundation namesake, a believer in leveling the playing field for all and in paying it forward.

In looking back on 2023, we are grateful for the communities, conversations and connections we experienced and look forward to creating more in 2024.

hope

The Fall brought many opportunities for education and outreach. It also brought the opportunity to say, thank you. The Tori Lynn Andreozzi Foundation is the host and presenting sponsor for the annual MADD Awards Recognition Breakfast. The Crowne Plaza was once again the site for this event. With over 250 attendees it was our largest event to date.

The Rhode Island Trauma Conference and a NHTSA sponsored MADD training for Region 1 showcased incredible stories of resilience and tools for best practice.

The Justice Assistance Awards and Women’s Council of Rhode Island events highlighted quality of Rhode Island leaders in a variety of fields and the AAA Safety Awards brought us together once again with our traffic safety partners.
